Honest Government Ad | TRUMP and Election (Selection) 2024

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=KHuMjIhS6t0> less than 5 minutes timely and funny, except the conclusion is too optimistic. Language is slightly risqué

Trump could win the Electoral College vote via Swing State voter suppression, election fraud, non-certification and violence, and Harris will win the popular vote. Since the electoral vote prevails, Trump will be selected President.

This Trump steal could be diminished if Biden would enact certain emergency measures.

Sadly, the Democrats might miss the opportunity to protect the last semblance of American Democracy. Biden could use the gift the Supreme Court inadvertently gave him, in their recent landmark decision when indemnifying Trump against certain prosecutions. The decision applies to the office of President even the current Democratic one. Biden can declare an "official act", which could give him wide latitude to protect the vote.

Biden has recently shown he would not take advantage of the Court's decision, to protect Democracy. Biden is advancing legislation that would attempt to undo the Supremes imperial Presidential decision, but the Republicans have declared the legislation dead on arrival, so it has no chance of helping anything before the November 2024 election. There are still other ways Biden could prevent a Trump steal without using the "Official Act" court decision -- read below.

What can one do to protect the vote in the Swing States of Arizona, Georgia, Michigan, Nevada, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin?

Biden could attempt to stop the current election process malfeasance, primarily perpetrated by Republicans, by implementing election integrity measures.

The most dramatic measures Biden could attempt would be to use Insurrection Act and the emergency sanctions authority to address the violations of taking place in the Swing States. Biden could do what President Eisenhower did to protect the rule of law on the Supreme Court's de-segregation ruling. Eisenhower federalized the National Guard and deployed the 101st Airborne Division into Little Rock, Arkansas to ensure the safety of the "Little Rock Nine".

Less dramatic actions Biden could take are outlined in the report by "CREW" linked to below.

Below is where to write to President Biden and Vice President Harris asking them to intervene to stop the lawlessness taking place by Trump supporters in the election process in the Swing States. Below is a simple sample letter.

SAMPLE LETTER

Dear President Biden and Vice President Harris:

Please note that numerous reports (see CREW report) as reported on by MSNBC and numerous publications, indicate that Trump supporters acting as election officials are prepared not to certify the election results if they favor Vice President Harris.

1. Please make preparation to use legal means, such as a Writ of Mandamus, to compel the election officials to carry out their ministerial duties to certify the election results even if they do not favor Trump.
2. Please be prepared to restrain violent groups, who have stated that they will only accept a Trump win and plan on physically attacking the election process if the election results are not in Trump's favor.
3. Please do everything in your power to stop illegal voter roll purges in states like Georgia and Texas and closing of polling places in Afro-American, Hispanic and Asian districts.

Sincerely,
Concerned voter (your name and contact)

Additional information:

If you are upset by the genocide America is helping to commit in Gaza with your tax dollars and US military aid via the Biden/Harris administration, but do not want to inadvertently aid a Trump selection and if you live in a safe state like California (winner takes all electoral votes plus Harris is way ahead in California state polling) vote for Dr. Jill Stein, who is the candidate arrested trying to help students protest military aid to Israel.

The votes Dr. Stein gets will send a message to the Democratic Party to stop aiding rampant killing of non-combatants.

CREW report

Georgia recently enacted legislation to give Georgia counties more power to cheat

In this report, CREW identifies 35 rogue election officials across the country who have already refused to certify election results and may be in a position to do so again. The report focuses on the eight states where county officials have unlawfully refused to certify elections since 2020: Arizona, Colorado, Georgia, Nevada, New Mexico, North Carolina, Pennsylvania and Michigan. The report also identifies the legal remedies available to state and federal authorities, as well as voters, to protect the certification of the 2024 election.

Election Deniers Secretly Pushed Rule That Would Make It Easier to Delay Certification of Georgia's Election Results

<https://www.propublica.org/article/georgia-election-board-vote-certification>

“Republican-controlled Georgia election board passes rule that may delay vote certification (Reuters) –

Georgia's Republican-controlled state election board approved a new rule on Monday that voting rights advocates say could permit local election officials to delay certification of November's presidential election results, potentially throwing the outcome of the battleground state's vote into uncertainty.

The five-member board, which includes three members championed by Republican presidential candidate Donald Trump, voted 3-2 to empower county election board members to investigate any discrepancies, even minor ones, between the number of cast ballots and the number of voters in each precinct before certification.

Such mismatches are not uncommon and are not typically evidence of fraud, according to voting rights advocates, who say the rule could permit individual board members to intentionally delay approval of the results.

Trump, who praised the majority's three members by name during a Georgia campaign rally earlier this month, has falsely claimed for years that the 2020 election was rigged by fraud.

His infamous January 2021 phone call in which he asked the state's top election official, Republican Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger, to "find" enough votes to sway the outcome helped lead to Trump's pending indictment on state charges.”

Writ of mandamus

In most states, the primary mechanism to force an official to certify an election is a civil lawsuit seeking a writ of mandamus, which asks the court to compel a government official to perform their legal duties. While the precise requirements for mandamus differ from state to state, as a general matter, a party seeking a writ of mandamus must satisfy three elements:

1) it must be clear from state law that the official has a non-discretionary and ministerial duty;
2) mandamus must be the only adequate remedy for the situation;
and 3) the person or entity bringing the lawsuit must have a clear legal right to the action requested.

These requirements will generally be easy to satisfy when certification has been withheld — and, indeed, successful mandamus

Much Needed Reform for the Electoral Count Act

Federal

<https://www.fbi.gov/investigate/public-corruption/election-crimes>

Election crimes become federal cases when:

- The ballot includes one or more federal candidates

- The crime involves an election official abusing his duties

- The crime pertains to fraudulent voter registration

- Voters are not U.S. citizens

What is not a federal election crime?

- Giving voters a ride to the polls

- Offering voters a stamp to mail an absentee ballot

- Giving voters time off to vote

- Violating state campaign finance laws

- Distributing inaccurate campaign literature

- Campaigning too close to the polls

- Trying to convince an opponent to withdraw from a race

Federal election crimes fall into three broad categories—campaign finance crimes, voter/ballot fraud, and civil rights violations.

Campaign finance

- A person gives more than $4,600 to a federal candidate (various limits apply for donations to and from committees and groups)

- A donor asks a friend to give money to a federal candidate, promising to reimburse the friend, and the friend makes the donation and the real donor reimburses him

- A corporation gives corporate money to a federal candidate

- A person who is neither a citizen nor a green card holder gives money to a federal, state, or local candidate

Civil rights violations

- Someone threatens a voter with physical or economic harm unless the voter casts his ballot in a particular way

- Someone tries to prevent qualified voters from getting to the polls in a federal election

- A scheme exists to prevent minorities from voting

Voter/ballot fraud

A voter intentionally gives false information when registering to vote

A voter receives money or something of value in exchange for voting in a federal election or registering to vote

Someone votes more than once in a federal election

An election official corrupts his or her office to benefit a candidate or party (e.g., lets unqualified voters cast ballots)
